

Élise Deacon – Human Resources and Staffing Advisor, INSPQ

Holder of a bachelor's degree in administration from Université de Sherbrooke with a profile in human resources management, Élise Deacon has more than 20 years of experience in this field. She began as a generalist in the legal field.

Having demonstrated early on a marked interest in recruitment and staffing, it is in this area that she focused her practice. It was during her stay in Gaspésie that she had the opportunity to carry out recruitment mandates for applied research centers.

Subsequently, she did a short stay in the world of education before joining, in 2020, the National Institute of Public Health of Quebec as a talent acquisition and attraction advisor.
